

Introduction to the development of the "international society" and the fundamental characteristics of public international law.

The subjects of international law, beginning with the most important of them, the State - International organizations, the individual.

The law governing interstate relations and, more specifically, the diplomatic and consular relations, economic relations and the law governing the use of armed force in international relations.